

Entech Selected Best Tech Work Culture Finalist in Timmy Awards

Tech in Motion announces top local companies to work at in tech, 2020 Timmys public voting opens

Malvern, PA (September 16, 2020) – Tech in Motion named Entech a 2020 finalist for Best Tech Work Culture in the 6th annual Timmy Awards, which recognizes great workplaces for tech professionals. For Entech and all the finalists chosen, it's about far more than "perks" when it comes to a rewarding team environment; it's about a shared mission, meaningful recognition and promoting innovation, learning and technical creativity. The Greater Philadelphia community can vote here through Sept. 30 for who will represent them as the Regional Winner at the national round, judged by experts from companies like Netflix and Oracle and announced at the Timmy's first virtual ceremony in October.

Entech provides expertise to help organizations with strategies, technology and the innovation required to master digital convergence across the core business processes of marketing, sales, commerce, and service. We improve business outcome for clients through enhanced customer journeys, integration of back-office systems, and reduced operational costs. Whether you need management consulting, technology architecture, agile program management, software development, or network services, Entech consultants deliver on-time, every time.

According to Entech's Head of Account Management, Alicia Lewis, "Entech strives for a culture where everyone belongs. I enjoy working with a team of some of the brightest innovators and best thought leaders I've known. Entech cares about helping each other succeed while building an amazing culture in the process. We live by our motto: Big enough to make an impact. Small enough to care."

"We've honored tech companies that go above and beyond to inspire innovation and create outstanding work environments for the past five years," says Mandy Walker, Director of Marketing at Tech in Motion. "In a year marked by unprecedented challenges and uncertainties, we are thrilled to acknowledge many of the companies striving to continue bettering the lives and culture of their tech teams. The complete list of 2020 Timmy Awards regional finalists can be found here."

The 2020 Timmy Awards Ceremony will be a special, entirely digital experience honoring this year's best tech startups, managers and employers, as well as those using technology for good. On Thursday, Oct. 29, all regional Finalists, Regional Winners and the Tech in Motion network is invited to virtually join the celebration, complete with words from this year's host and expert judges, 2020 National Timmy Award announcements, and more.
